

Logan Plan 2025: Lifestyles and communities

shared vision, sustainable future

A city of pride, opportunity and culture

The City of Logan is home to around 6.5 per cent of Queensland’s population, with people from more than 217 cultural backgrounds. We love our suburban and rural lifestyles, rich natural areas, recreational opportunities and cultural heritage. With the Queensland Government predicting Logan’s population will exceed 500,000 by 2036, it is important that we can preserve the lifestyle and communities we enjoy.

We recognise this by including “Lifestyles and communities” as one of the five pillars of our new planning scheme, Logan Plan 2025.

What do you think?

Are these the right areas to focus on to achieve what we want for our lifestyles and communities in future?

What does a “liveable community” mean for you?

What changes could we make to see a more positive difference?

Get involved

We’d love to know what you think about the Lifestyles and communities pillar as part of Logan Plan 2025.

Key elements

Our focus on lifestyle and community will help us guide growth and development in our city in a way that balances important elements. In developing our Logan Plan 2025, we value:

Housing diversity

We need to make sure we can support housing choices for our residents which suit different lifestyles, needs and stages of life.

Social and community well-being

We value our diversity and need to make sure our communities have access to the infrastructure and services they need to encourage healthy lifestyles.

Liveable and sustainable communities

We encourage the design of attractive, functional, safe and accessible neighbourhoods, streets and public places to meet the needs of our community. We responsibly manage development and land use activity to minimise impacts such as such as light, odour and noise.

Culture and heritage

We maintain and enhance the multi-cultural characteristics of our city and protect our areas of heritage and cultural significance.

Together, we’re shaping our city and our future.
